ARBORWELL PLANTS REDWOOD TREE
ON MEMORIAL DAY IN HONOR OF
LOST SOLDIERS
Local Tree Care Company Participates in SanMateo Parade and Donates Service

Arborwell, California's leading professional treemanagement company donated their time and services this Memorial Day to honor those we have lost by participating in the San Mateo parade and planting a tree in the city's Central Park. The parade was honoring the 40th Anniversary of the adoption of the 101st Airborne 1st Battalion/327th Infantry Regiment.

"I feel it is our duty to show our appreciation for those who dedicate their lives for our country," said Peter Sortwell, President and CEO of Arborwell. "I am happy that Arborwell was able to perform our act of thanks this year by giving San Mateo's Central Park a beautiful new tree to enjoy in honor of our fallen soldiers."

Arborwell Production Manager Chris Plympton and Arborwell Fleet Manager Richard Callis drove the large crane through the streets of San Mateo during the annual Memorial Day Parade with a 48-inch box redwood tree that was later planted in Central Park. The tree was planted in honor of the 101st Airborne.
