

Insect and Disease Management

Arborwell's Insect and Disease Management philosophy is one of prevention first, action when needed, followed by maintenance.

Organic products are used when available and other products when necessary. Our first concern is preventing problems with your trees then restoring them to their optimum health and vigor, and maintaining that health and vigor through a program of scheduled applications of fertilizer, water, and general care.

Prevention: By reducing the initial stress to your trees and shrubs, many disease and insect problems can be avoided. Inspection of trees and their problems is the first plan of action and a preventative plan of action is recommended.

Action: When insects and diseases are already present, Arborwell applies organic and environmentally approved products to resolve the problem.

Maintenance: When disease and insects are eliminated, Arborwell applies customized fertilizers, monitors watering, and inspects your trees with periodic visits.

With scheduled maintenance in place, Arborwell can reduce stress to your trees and help prevent further reoccurrence of problems, restoring your trees and shrubs to their maximum health and real value.
